'DEAR KATIE' LEARNS ABOUT MRS. TEMPLE ALSO TELEGRAM

'PALACE GRAND OPERA HOUSE' IS SCENE OF THREE HOUR LAUGH, SAYS E. C. HALE

Glendale, June 3, 1921.

Dear Katie: Well, last night I went to have a interview with Mrs. Temple's Telegram at the Palace Grand Opera House. I got there about a half a hour after seven cause I wanted to see if there was anybody else goin' besides me and, Katie, you should of seen the crowd that was there waitin' to get in. They was knee deep way out to the street and a half a block north.

A band of twenty men was playin' the Gloria March in front of the opera house and it drew the crowds like a porous plaster.

Well, you never can judge the circus by the bills or the fence so I got in line and breezed into the place.

I walked up to the ticket man and I just showed him my visitin' card kinda independent like which 'the same proved as how I was a reporter, but he says nothin' doin' on that stuff and, Katie, he talked as cold to me as New Year's in Alaska.

He says no free tickets to this show and I begun to get riled up and I says as how I was a reporter and I didn't have to pay nothin' and he says he didn't care if I was the Prince of Persia and I wasn't goin' in without a ticket.

Well, then I says he was no lady anyway, so I started to go out again and there was a big crowd pushin' to get in and there was I tryin' to get out and I begun to get mad and the next minute I'd been calling for the cops.

Gets In Getting Out

The ticket man was busy and he didn't pay no more attention to me and the crowd kept shovin' me backwards and it was like a rush to a bargain counter. Well, pretty soon I was half way down the center isle and still tryin' to get out so as I could buy a ticket and at last I give it up in disgust and I sit down. And there I was. Well, before the show started I enjoyed the time bein by reading the advertisements on the curtain and listenin' to the band concert which was playin' Out In The Streets.

The leading men was leading people to their seats and pretty soon the empty seats was as scarce as $3.00 bills.

Well, at 8 o'clock the orchestra come out and the band men all come in and sit down to enjoy the music and the show.

The curtain went up at last and there was a most beautiful little par-

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Kearns of 927 North Louise street, have just returned from a business and pleasure trip in San Francisco and Oakland. While away they attended the Golden jubilee at Santa Clara university of Jerome Riccard as a Jesuit priest. Father Riccard is about 71 years old. He is hale, strong, hearty and interesting. In the evening a banquet was served to between five and six hundred boy graduates and non-graduates. Chapters are to be formed in Nevada, Utah, Washington and Oregon.

Mr. Kearns reports one of the best times of his life.

Thirsty? Wait Until This Record Lemon Is Made Into Drink Stuff!

Wait until it's squeezed!

Then it won't be so big, but there'll be a barrel of lemonade made.

For the lemon now on display at the Glendale Pharmacy weighs 1 pound and 12 ounces. It was grown on the Sparr ranch in northeastern Glendale along the Verdugo road.

Of course, such fruit usually is not good, but to think of a lemon six times the ordinary size stretches one's imagination.

PLANS FOR CUT-OFF FOR W. BROADWAY ARE DROPPED

PROPERTY OWNERS UNWILLING TO FINANCE PROJECT, IS DECISION REACHED

Proceedings to extend West Broadway across Central avenue and establish a parking space on the property left by the cut-off will be dropped—probably permanently.

This was made plain at the meeting of the Board of City Trustees last night when A. H. Lapham, city trustee and resident of West Broadway, announced that property owners in the proposed assessment district were opposing the improvement.

As a matter of fact, it will be impossible to secure a majority of signatures to the petitions for the improvement," said Trustee Lapham. "The majority of the property owners are against it. They are saying so in no uncertain terms. Property owners favoring the improvement are convinced it will be useless to proceed. The West Broadway cut-off is, apparently, a dead issue. We may as well forget it."

Permit for Oil Station

And to further indicate no further action to extend the thoroughfare will be taken, A. P. Offutt, owner of the vacant corner at West Broadway and Central, was granted a permit by the trustees to establish an oil station.

The permit, which has been pending while the sentiment of the property owners was being secured relative to the cut-off, was not protested and was granted on motion of Trustee Lapham, seconded by Trustee Henry.

Colorado P.-T. A. In Term's Last Meeting

The Colorado Street Parent-Teacher association held the last meeting of this year yesterday afternoon with a good attendance of members. The teachers gave the mothers a delightful open-air program, rendered by the children of all grades, as follows:

Patriotic drill, by the third grade.

Three patriotic selections, by the fourth grade.

"The Blue and the Gray," pantomime by the girls of the fifth and sixth grades.

Flanders Field and Answer, sixth grade.

Following the program the teachers served punch and cakes.

Mrs. W. H. Dotson, president, called the business meeting to order. R. D. White, superintendent of schools, gave a short talk explaining about the new board of education. Installation of the new president of the association, Mrs. E. S. McKee, then took place.

As a token of appreciation for services rendered Mrs. Dotson, president; and Mrs. Charles Perry, vice-president; were presented with lovely potted ferns and Mrs. B. L. Cline, treasurer, and Mrs. C. M. Cronkhite, secretary, were presented with beautiful flowers.

Crossing Protection Urgent Need, Is Plea

At the suggestion of C. E. Kimlin, business manager of the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, immediate efforts will be made by T. W. Watson, city manager, and directors of the Chamber of Commerce to have proper protection to traffic installed on Brand boulevard at the Southern Pacific Railroad company's tracks.

Mr. Kimlin appeared before the Board of City Trustees last night and told of a narrow escape he had had recently of being struck by a train while crossing the tracks in his automobile. He declared that lives were being endangered by failure to have gates or a flagman at the crossing and urged the trustees to take action.

On motion of Trustee Lapham, seconded by Trustee Robinson, the city manager was instructed to confer at once with the railroad officials, acting in conjunction with the Chamber of Commerce.

KATHERINE LIVINGSTON DIES

Katherine Mae Livingston passed away this morning at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Livingston, 530 North Glendale avenue. Lowe and a hearing was set for June 9 at 9 o'clock at which time a full investigation of the accident in which Miss Eugenia Lindsey lost her life. The local court will in no wise determine what action is to be taken by the superior court in prosecuting the case.

Dr. Paul K. Sellew Is Speaker Before P.-T.A.

The Cerritos Avenue Parent-Teacher association held its last meeting of the year Thursday afternoon. The program included a piano solo by Miss Audrey Haynes, a pupil of the eighth grade, also one by Mr. Lofton, an instructor in the Glendale schools, and a vocal solo by Mrs. E. B. Moore, president of the association.

The speaker of the afternoon was Dr. Paul K. Sellew, who gave a very instructive talk on "The Life of the Eye." Among other things he discussed the cause of some of the eye troubles so prevalent among children today and suggested measures for their relief. At the conclusion of his talk he answered many questions put before him by the mothers concerning the care of the eyes.

The boys and girls of the seventh grade delighted the audience with a short dramatization of "Rip Van Winkle," which was the outcome of their regular class work in English. Three acts were given and were as follows:

Act I.—Dialogue between Rip and his scolding wife, Dame Van Winkle.

Act II.—A neighborly chat around the Inn.

Act III.—The return of Rip after an absence of twenty years. The lapse of time between the acts was bridged by Miriam Letts, who gave a sketch of the events that took place between them.

Mrs. Eustice B. Moore, the retiring president, was presented with a bouquet of flowers and an Eversharp pencil. The presentation speech was ably given by Mrs. E. L. Adams, the newly elected president. She expressed the appreciation of the members of the association for the splendid work done by Mrs. Moore, who has been president for the last two years.

C. E. Society Gives Clever Comedy Sketch

A very interesting program was given last night by the Christian Endeavor society of the Congregational church. The program was under the management of Miss Doris Barnard.

The main feature of the evening was a one-act comedy entitled "A Cup of Coffee." This was played by Miss Gladys White, Miss Catherine Guthrie, Miss Winifred Parker, Miss Grace Judd, Miss Gladys Peckham, Miss Edith Schuyler, Miss Margaret Frazee and Mrs. Blake Franklin. This was a very clever sketch and was played well by these young ladies.

Another feature of the program was music by the Sunday school orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Chappell, Mrs. Abbell at the piano. Then Miss Nellie Rowe and Walter Kohl presented a very clever little sketch. A vocal solo was rendered by Jack Jenkins and a whistling solo by Eva Green. The boys chorus sang "Steal Away," after which a monologue was presented by Miss Millicent Alvord.

The church auditorium was filled and the entertainment proved a great success. Candy was also sold which helped swell the funds.

PILLAGE IN TULSA GIVES AUTHORITIES NEW PROBLEM

TULSA, Okla., June 3.—Pillagers prying on burned and blood-stained Tulsa, gave authorities a new problem to cope with today. Systematic thievery in the districts razed during two days of race rioting was reported—even pianos have been carried away from the negro district which was wrecked by race hatred. Martial law, which was slackened after a day of quiet, was more strict today. A cordon of heavily armed guardsmen was thrown around the negro district to save what little remains of the property of negroes. General Barrett, in charge of the troops early today began centralizing the property of negroes, found in their ruined shacks, into one large heap for identification and protection. Revised estimates now place the total death list, whites and negroes, at thirty killed and about 300 injured. Earlier reports placed the list of dead up to 175. This was due to multiplication of records among sheriff's deputies, police, the national guard and other peace agencies.

ZONE ORDINANCE HEARING

Due to the fact that the proposed zone ordinance is not completed, it was not considered at the meeting of the board of city trustees last night, although a public hearing was set. There were but few persons present to participate in the hearing and J. C. Person was the only one to speak. He inquired as to the ordinance's provisions and was informed a copy of the proposed measure would be given him later by the city manager. It is probable the ordinance will not be acted upon by the present board.

'DEAR KATIE' LEARNS ABOUT MRS. TEMPLE ALSO TELEGRAM

lor with real furniture and a piano and a fireless fireplace and everything.

Katie, it would take too long to explain the whole show to you, but it was a comedy with a capital C and they didn't throw no lemon pies, either.

Mr. Norval MacGregor as Jack Temple with his beautiful lies went from the fryin' pan into the dishwater.

Mr. W. Mead Chapman as Frank Fuller knew more about family mixups than Ford knows about autos.

Mr. Jack Weatherby as Captain Sharpe was a fine lookin' soilder.

"Chicken In The Case"

Miss Edith Cooper as Dorothy was the chicken in the case and she had the son in her eyes the same bein' Capt. Sharpe. She was dressed like she come Straight From Paris.

Mr. Billy Fay as John Brown was sunny side up with a bald head and a corsage boquet.

Mr. Wm. Brunton as Wigson was the butler that answered the door bell and his master's voice.

Mrs. Beulah C. Dunbar as Mrs. Fuller was the veiled bribe and the woman at the bottom of it all. Miss Georgie Woodthrope as Mrs. Brown was a scream in B flat and would of caused a runaway if she would of walked down Broadway.

Miss Georgie Cooper as Mrs. Temple looked as pretty as a thousend dollar bill and she wore charming creations of something or other and—but Katie, I know as much about women's clothes as Rockefeller does about poverty. Mrs. Temple looked awful pretty anyway. The whole show went off fine and it was awful funny.

Jack Gets In Bad

Jack Temple got in bad from the start and the way his wife balled him out would of made a traffic cop green with envy.

Mr. Fuller came to the resuce as a delightful liar and saved the situation by makin' it worse.

The way Mrs. Brown tackled her husband was a comedy in 6 reels and the poor abused Mr. Brown looked like a pump without a handle when he tried to crawl under the couch.

Mrs. Temple begged for mercy with one hand and swung the proverbable rollin' pin with the other.

Mr. Temple told Dorothy and Capt. Sharpe to go get married and repent in Hollywood, or words to that effect.

Mrs. Brown looked like the end of a perfect bargain counter and she was an indignant loidy. Mrs. Fuller was the original excuse for Why Change Your Wife, and Wigson, the butler, was like the door bell—always out of order.

Katie, it was one long 3 hour laugh and the acting was elegant. I bet them actors gets big wages and if it wasn't for night work, I'd be a actor myself.

Well, before the fade out the whole thing looked as doubtful as the servant problem, but at last somebody spilled the bean soup and the popiers, (which the same was Mrs. Temple's Telegram) was explained in full, and they all joined hands and went out to lunch.

The same show is here again tonight, Katie, and I wish you was here to see it.

It is worth the price alone to see the dresses that Mrs. Temple wears and—er, to the contrary.

Everybody was awful pleased with the show. Katie includin'

Surveyor General To Hunt For State Line

SACRAMENTO, June 3.—California's map may be changed.

The surveyor general must make a survey of the eastern boundary of our state near the Gila river of Arizona in an effort to determine just where the state line lies between Arizona and California.

It is believed by exponents of the Beal bill, which was signed by Governor William D. Stephens last night, that the result of the survey will be that California will annex some new territory, up to the main street of Yuma, Ariz. Those who have studied old documents of the state believed that the maps are all wrong and that all grants will give California more territory.

A number of county government bills were signed by the governor last night in addition to a number of repealing acts of obsolete laws.

La Crescenta Notes

"The Little Princess" will be given at the La Crescenta school auditorium Friday, June 10 at 8 p. m.

Mrs. E. Druey, the mother of C. A. Druey passed away very suddenly at her home in Los Angeles.

The La Crescenta Water company has contracted for a new well, work to begin immediately.

Mrs. E. Walker of Michigan avenue has leased her home and will leave shortly for Canada for the summer.

Mrs. C. Jennings Young who has been quite ill at the French hospital, returned home Wednesday much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Turner returned from a three weeks' motor trip up north last Saturday. Mrs. Turner was Mrs. Bernice Burlingame before her marriage to Mr. Turner. They are planning to build a home on Montrose and Pennsylvania avenues.

The La Crescenta school trustees, Fred H. Anderson, Mrs. Ellen B. Pease and H. A. Baldridge report the purchase of an Ampico Edison reproducing piano for the school. E. Lillie will give a program at the school auditorium next Thursday afternoon for the school children and their mothers.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Anderson of Montrose charmingly enteretined the Tuesday Bridge club this week. The out of town guests were Mrs. Harriet Bastable and Miss Delia Bastable of Los Angeles. The highest score of the club members was made by H. G. Bissell and Mrs. E. N. Nettleton, Mrs. Bastable winning the guest trophy.

At the regular meeting of the Improvement association held at the school auditorium Thursday night, many local improvements were discussed, among them being grading Los Angeles and Michigan avenues for sidewalks, buying more fire hose and having a fire alarm system. The association voted to have another "fireman's ball the latter part of June, the proceeds to go for local improvements. Street lights for Los Angeles from Montrose to Honolulu avenues and on Honolulu avenue east to Montrose were discussed and committees appointed to solicit signatures and call an election. Last night's meeting was not only largely attended but one of the most enthusiastic of the year.

Members Of Drama Section Entertained

The members of the drama section of the Tuesday Afternoon club were entertained yesterday at the home of Mrs. J. I. Wernette, 1330 North Louise street, with Mrs. Frank Ayars as assisting hostess. Mrs. R. E. Chase, curator, gave a reading of Barrie's "What Every Woman Knows" and also read an article on "How Maude Adams Fits the Barrie Mood." Another article read by her was the New York criticism on Ethel Barrymore's new play. This was followed by a discussion of the leading actors and actresses of the day.

Mrs. Charles H. Temple, chairman of committee in charge of arrangements for the dinner to be given June 16 at the home of the curator for the members and their husbands gave her report.

Mrs. Chase then gave a review of the work done during the year by the drama section.

Lovely refreshments were then served by the hostesses. There were 21 members present.

Show By Elks' Lodge Is Complete Success

Dramatically speaking "Mrs. Temple's Telegram" was a message of success at the Palace Grand Theatre last night. It will be seen again tonight. With the American Legion-Elks band playing a concert prior to this B. P. O. E. benefit, one would think a road show was in town. And the actors are all professional performers who played their roles in an admirable manner.

W. Mead Chapman is directing the performances and Vernon Snively is stage manager. Much of the furniture used is donated by Page-Trice and the ornamental iron pieces are the work of Goudie & Goudie. In another column will be found E. C. Hale's letter to "Dear Katie" about the performance.

Buick Prices Drop; Sales Are Increased

Down go Buick prices. Up go Buick sales.

That is the attitude of Tanner & Hall, local dealers, who have eagerly awaited the announcement by the Buick corporation of a pre-war schedule for their superior product. When readers of The Glendale Evening News look at the new prices quoted in an advertisement in this issue there is little question as to the establishment of a sales record.

The banquet reservations, which are in charge of Mrs. Colin Cable and tickets for which are also on sale at the Glendale Music company's store, close tonight. This promises to be a most brilliant affair. The concert which follows the banquet is open to the public free of charge.

The final revised banquet program will be as follows:

Greetings—C. C. Cooper, president Glendale Chamber of Commerce.

Greetings—Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, president Tuesday Afternoon Club.

In addition to the concert program already published in a previous issue of The Evening News Mrs. Algots Sparrow of Burbank will render a piano solo. The balance of the program includes organ solos, tenor solos and selections by the Burbank Choral Club, which organization is showing a splendid spirit of co-operation in offering to assist the Glendale Music Club in its final music week concert.

Prominent Youths Arrested

Melville Wing and Burl Lenfesty, two young social lions of Ontario, are in the toils of the law at Safford, Ariz., and will be extradited to this state on charges of highway robbery at Pomona. Revenue Agent Is Accused

A. C. Kellar, internal revenue agent, is under arrest in Los Angeles on charges of extortion. It is alleged he took $1750 from Mrs. Myra Hershey, owner of Hotel Hollywood, after naming an enormous sum of taxes which she would have to pay. From the viewpoint of most citizens, every internal revenue agent should be arrested on charges of extortion and in turn they would arrest every taxpaying citizen as a falsifier, etc.

Draft Evader Arrested After 5 Month Search

SACRAMENTO, June 3.—After a five months' search for John Bellini, former convict, known as "Jimmy the Wop," federal agents have him in custody today, charged with evading the draft. Mrs. Mae Figueroa was later arrested, charged with conspiracy in the case.

Bellini, federal authorities said, while in Watsonville, forced Mrs. Figueora at the point of a gun to sign his exemption claim as his dependent wife. Mrs. Figueroa told officials she was intimidated into signing the papers.

Several years ago Bellini escaped from San Quentin and was captured after a battle at Stockton during which he was shot in the shoulder.

PLENTY OF FUN FOR C. E. DELEGATION NOW ASSURED

PICNIC, BONFIRES, PARADE ON PROGRAM AS ENTERTAINMENT FOR GLENDALE VISITORS

By GLEN and DALE

There will be fun for everyone at the Christian Endeavor convention June 25-29. Monday afternoon is set aside for picnics. J. W. Watson, city manager, and also a member of the Glendale convention committee, reported to that body at a recent meeting held in the Christian church that he had secured the Verdugo park for the picnics. It seemed a shame to take picnics to near-by cities when delegates had been invited to Glendale. He interviewed the F. P. Newport company and while they refused permission for the use of the park almost daily in summer were willing to allow it this time. On account of the city water supply passing through the park the city does not encourage picnics ordinarily. Mr. Watson's successful efforts were much appreciated and a vote of thanks sent the F. P. Newport company.

To Arrange for Bonfires

Mr. Baker, of the high school faculty, was present. He has been appointed chairman of recreation to arrange two evening bonfires to be held on the high school field after sessions and a ball game to be played Monday afternoon. He will also plan for the Junior and Intermediate picnics held the same afternoon at the park. Mr. McCormick, transportation manager, will co-operate with him and the assistance of Mrs. Yarick's commissary department will be much needed for the lunches.

She will need the co-operation of all the ladies' organizations in Glendale. Mr. Valentine, state president, announced that requests for seven special breakfasts, luncheons and banquets had come in already.

Parade To Be Featured

Another feature of the recreation program will be a parade of counties and districts Tuesday evening. All Glendale committees will be in uniform and thus it will be the finest ever carried out in a Christian Endeavor convention. If Glen and Dale's visitors don't enjoy themselves it will be their own fault, and knowing young people we know they will like all arrangements.

Nevertheless the supreme thought of the convention is not being forgotten by the leaders—that of bringing young people to the Master and into His service. At the last committee meeting Rev. Cole, Rev. Edmonds and Rev. Calderwood were present and brought greetings of help and encouragement.

Single Women Leading All In Popularity

SACRAMENTO, June 3.—Little Dan Cupid causes one state department to keep on its toes—and that's the bureau of vital statistics, under the supervision of L. E. Ross, registrar of vital statistics.

"When a couple—old or young—secures a license and are married, they think that's the end of it. But it's only the beginning for the bureau of vital statistics," smilingly declares Ross.

The department is busy, but the machinery is not ponderous. All marriage licenses are issued by county clerks, but are returned to the county recorder by the minister who performs the ceremony. California is one of two states which have two different county officers handling the licenses, says Ross, who advocates a change in the system so that one official may issue and record them.

Each month the county recorder sends the registered certificates to the bureau of vital statistics, where they are edited under Ross' supervision, checked to see that all blanks are properly filled out. This formality is aimed to protect the contracting parties, "who are excited when making them out," as Ross says.

The second act of the bureau is to record on a Hollerith tabulating card the following items: Date of marriage, county where ceremony was performed, number of the certificate, color of contracting parties, the birth places of bride and groom, age of groom, number of times married, and birth places of parents of both bride and groom. These cards are then filed alphabetically.

Vaccination Act of 1911 Killed, Claimed

SACRAMENTO, June 3.—With the signing of the Crowley bill placing the control of smallpox of the state in the hands of the state board of health, Governor Stephens has killed the vaccination act of 1911, according to statement from Dr. Walter M. Dickie, secretary of the state board of health.

The bill will take vaccination control out of its present chaotic condition and provide a more orderly operation of the law, in the opinion of Dickie.

"The schools of California, under the old law, have lost large sums of money through lask of attendance whenever smallpox appeared in any district. Through absence, many pupils have been deprived of a necessary part of their education and have been retarded in their work. In many cases this has caused them to drop school work before completing their courses.

"The state board of control will now place smallpox control upon the same basis as the control of any of the other communicable diseases. This will simplify the work of health officers and teachers, will facilitate quick action in stamping out the disease wherever it may appear, and will eliminate the 'red tape' and the clumsy features of the old law."

Dr. Dickie asked the co-operation of the general public with health officers in the enforcement of the state board's regulations. Indications are that smallpox will be more prevalent this year than ever before, as the records for the first quarter of 1921 show an unprecedented number of cases reported.

Swapping Of Wives Is Frowned On By Court

ANDERSON, Ind., June 3.—"Love thy neighbor as thyself—but stay away from his wife."

Judge William A. Kittinger today went back to that revised edition of the basic laws in reaching a decision in the Anderson wife-swapping divorce case.

The court told the United Press the petition for divorces filed by Glee Muncey against her husband, Bill, and that of Babe Huffman against her husband, Gorman, would not be granted by him. Gorman and Bill wanted to trade wives.

"There is no need of looking up Blackstone to decide this case," Judge Kittinger told the United Press. "All we need to do is go back to the fundamental basic laws—the ten commandments:

"Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife, is the only law I need refer to in refusing to give them a divorce."

The judge recounted how the quartet came before him and asked that they be allowed to swap husbands and wives. The court allowed that:

Fair exchange is no robbery—unless wives are the subject of the bargain.

Another Fish Story! But This One's True

MERCED, June 3.—Another fish story, said to be actual fact this time by folks who consumed the steaks, is being told by Merced people to every person who ever angled or who is kin to anyone who has done so.

A sturgeon, which looked as big as a shark to the bewildered eyes of exploring small boys, was taken from an irrigation ditch near here. After being hauled from the water in an exhausted condition by men to whom the boys cried "fish" and killed by a well-aimed bullet the fish was found to weigh 300 pounds.

The steaks consumed furnished the piece resistance to nearly half the families in Stevinson county and started an epidemic of story telling which bids fair to outlive the memory of the big sturgeon itself, according to the cynical comment of non-followers of Ike Walton.

In carving a career sharp wits are more serviceable than a sharp tongue.

GLENDALE RESIDENT IS AMONG THOSE GRANTED HONOR

VIOLA MARCELLA YORBA IS LISTED WITH FOLK WHO HAVE SECURED FAME

The interesting article prepared by Mrs. Alex. Mitchell on Spanish music and composers is continued today, this being the fourth installment. The final installment will be published Saturday and will be a list of favorite Spanish music and Mexican songs. Here's the fourth installment:

BY MRS. ALEX. MITCHELL

In 1854 his most valuable and original work was in the invention of the laryngescope. He says this came to him more as an inspirational discovery than an invention. His friend Felix Lemon has said that the beneficial effects of this discovery have been so widespread that 3 per cent of all human beings have reason to bless the name of Manuel Garcia, inferring that it has proven even more important to the medical than to the musical profession. This gave him the honorary degree of doctor of medicine from the Konigsberg university.

The centenary of Garcia's birth was honored with a most unique celebration. Delegates from medical and musical societies all over the world, including Australia and Japan, met at the Royal Academy, delivering addresses and messages. The king of England conferred upon him great honors. The king of Spain sent a decoration and the German emperor conferred upon him the "Great Gold Medal of Science," which only scientists had previously received. A portrait of himself was presented to him and in his response and in the banquet speech which he made that evening wonderful mental activity was shown. A personal representative of the English king and the telegrams of congratulations from the Prime Minister Balfour prove in what high esteem Garcia was held by the British government.

With the possible exception of Sarasate, Garcia is said to have been the most important musical genius produced by Spain.

Appeared in Los Angeles

Manuela Budrow, born in Sebastian, Spain, prepared for an operatic career but abandoned it upon her marriage. Her range of voice was unusual, two and one-half octaves from small F upward. She sang in Los Angeles with great success in 1915 and was soloist in St. Brendans church in Los Angeles and in the Santa Ana Congregational church. One of her best compositions is the "Bells of the Mission Inn."

Enrique Granada and Ferdinand Periquet wrote the lyric drama "Goyescas," which was first produced at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York. Granada was one of the most distinguished Spanish pianists and composers.

Marie Barientos made her North American debut at this time, as did also the Spanish cellist Pablo Casalo, and the guitar virtuoso Miguel Llobet.

Great Future Is Predicted

Jose Albanez is at present being enthusiastically received and admired in the east and also abroad as a concert pianist and composer. He is quite a young man and a great future is predicted for him.

Last of all is Viola Marcella Yorba, who was born in Los Angeles where she received her musical training under Harry Gerard and Estelle Lawton Mills.

Miss Yorba has lived in Glendale since she was a small child. She attended the grade schools and high school in this city. When Madame Schumann Heink visited Los Angeles several years ago she heard the little senorita's voice and was so charmed by it that she urged Miss Yorba to place herself under her direction.

Miss Yorba was for a time uncertain whether to accept, realizing what an opportunity this offer was. But, Glendale, home and friends proved themselves too dear and she graciously refused.

Here's Some Facts About Date Industry

RIVERSIDE, June 3.—Coachella valley, the only section in the state where the date palm is grown commercially, is offsetting the slow growth of the Deglet Noor industry by importing the Saidy palm, which bears three times as many shoots as the Deglet Noor.

Deglet Noors give only eight shoots during the four years of shooting, or two shoots a year. Since the French government, in 1915, took steps to prohibit the exportation of date palms from Algeria, the growth of the industry as far as the Deglet Noor is concerned has been far below expectation. Hence the eagerness of growers to give some of their acreage over to the Saidy palm.

With about 50,000 acres of desert land available in Coachella valley for date culture, about 1100 acres are being utilized. Of these 1100 acres, 500 acres are planted to seedling varieties, and 600 acres to standard varieties. Eighty per cent of the standard varieties are the Deglet Noor.

Twenty women are employed as conductors on the street cars in Baltimore, Maryland.

'Mild' Diseases Cause Many Deaths, Report

SACRAMENTO, June 3.—So-called "mild" diseases are reaping a harvest of lives through the indifference of persons affected by them, according to L. Ross, head of the bureau of vital statistics of the state board of health.

Whooping cough killed more persons during 1920 than typhoid, measles, and smallpox, Ross recently announced, following completion of compilation of statistics on mild diseases in California. There were more than 400 deaths from whooping cough, while only 172 deaths resulted from typhoid, seven from scarlet fever, and 195 from measles.

At the same time Ross announced that California is standing on the brink of a volcano of smallpox. While there have been only seven deaths so far this year, thousands of cases have been reported. If smallpox becomes virulent the results would surpass the ravages of the influenza epidemic, declared Ross.

Whooping cough was more severe during 1920 than it has been for ten years. This disease, which reaches its peak every four years, showed an exceptional gain in 1920, after having reached a peak in 1918. The deaths for 1920 were a "surprise" as the disease was not scheduled to return with peak virulence until 1922.

Whooping cough is essentially a children's disease, statistics show, although deaths from the malady were recorded of persons aged 65 years. Deaths were as follows: Under one year, 236; between one and four years, 144; between five and fourteen years, 15; between 14 and 24 years, 1; between 25 and 34 years, 2; over 65 years, 3.

Measles showed a decided increase during 1920, Ross' report shows. There were 17,879 cases reported, with 195 deaths. The deaths were as follows: Under one year, 40; between 1 and 4 years, 104; between 5 and 14 years, 36; between 15 and 24 years, 5; between 25 and 34 years, 4; between 35 and 44 years, 2; between 45 and 54 years, 1; between 55 and 64 years, 1; over 65 years, 2.

"There is no such thing as a mild disease," Ross declares. "The virulence of these so-called "mild" diseases proves that they are dangerous and that their toll of lives is great. Whooping cough is generally regarded lightly, but not only does the record show that the deaths are many, but also that those touched with the disease are liable to tuberculosis. A great many whooping cough cases later develop into tuberculosis if not watched."

This City To Take Part In Valley Fair

Glendale this year will play a part in making the San Fernando Valley fair a success. It will be held at San Fernando September 13 to 18 inclusive. At a dinner to be held in the Porter hotel at San Fernando, June 9, the following local committees will represent the Glendale Chamber of Commerce in formulating plans for the event:

Alien Poll Tax Bill Is Signed By Governor

SACRAMENTO, June 3.—The alien poll tax law, which became effective when Governor Stephens signed the alien tax bill, will prevent this state from getting into the situation in which the United States found itself upon entering the World War, when thousands upon thousands of alien enemies roamed the country unchecked, according to opinions expressed by state officials.

The measure was ratified by the people at the general election in November, 1920. It will provide a system of checking aliens, something the state and country has lacked, it is said authoritatively.

School districts are made the registration units, and the money will be turned over to the school fund of the county where collected. The cost of collecting the alien poll tax will be defrayed by the proceeds from the tax itself.

Under the provisions of the alien tax bill, the tax of $10 annually will become due and payable August 1 and will become delinquent December 31. It will also be due the first Monday in March and become delinquent the following July 31 of every succeeding year. A penalty of 50 per cent will be added for delinquency, and the tax on penalty will bear interest at the rate of 7 per cent per annum.

Registration of adult aliens will be performed by temporary registration clerks, who will receive ten cents for each registration. One field deputy will be appointed for every 1000 aliens residing in the county up to 5000 aliens, and one deputy for every 2000 aliens thereafter.

Inability, failure, or refusal to exhibit the certificate of registration, after the close of the registration period, is prima facie evidence that the alien has not registered, and constitutes cause for immediate arrest.

Field deputies will be paid at the rate of $6 a day in the cities and $7 a day in rural communities. They will not receive an allowance for traveling expenses.

The new law provides for the seizure and sale of personal property of the delinquent poll tax payer to satisfy the tax and the penalty. It also provides for the garnisheement of wages in case of the delinquency of an employed alien. Registration of aliens will begin within 10 days and will be completed by July 31.

Lives Of Number Of Americans Threatened

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 3.—The lives of more than a score of American citizens imprisoned or otherwise detained in Soviet Russia now hinge on the efforts being made by Secretary of State Hughes to obtain their release, it was believed here today. Hughes now is understood to be working on a number of plans to get these American men and women out of the hands of the bolshevist authorities alive.

To leave the Americans in Russia to their fate would be a blot against the honor of the United States government, according to the opinion here, but at the same time Hughes is said to feel that any miscarriage of the state department's plans might result in the deaths of some.

The state department is in receipt of information that the plight of these Americans, especially those actually in prison, is most serious. However, none of these reports, nor even the names of the men and women held in Russia is being made public by the state department at sixty, for fear this might prejudice the chances of rescuing the Americans.

Are You Certain Your Home Is Properly Protected?

If you went over the surface of your home with a microscope, carefully examining the surface exposed to the weather, you might be shocked to learn that the agents of deterioration are already at work. CRIMINOLOGIST HAS METHOD TO TELL ABOUT FUTURE

READS LINES OF SKULL AND DECLARES HE IS ABLE TO MAKE GOOD PREDICTIONS

BERKELEY—Contemplating matrimony?

"How much does your skull measure? How many bumps has it? Is it symmetrical or is it 'lopsided?'"

Tasman Carey, Australian criminologist says measurements of the skull can tell in advance whether a couple will live happily or wind up in the divorce court.

Carey spoke at the invitation of Chief of Police Vollmer before the members of the police force. An examination of 2000 skulls in Australian prisons and in private life was made by Carey, while before he leaves America he hopes to measure half that number to contrast the qualities of Americans and Australians.

Carey says measurements of the skull can tell him if a man or woman will make good matrimonially, if they are big talkers or big eaters, if they have intellectual ability, if they are natural born criminals, if they are good citizens.

How's Your Forehead?

Short foreheads, said Carey, denote a lack of intellectuality.

Breadth between the eyes and nose means skill; a big arch in the upper forehead means the owner likes to talk a lot, while deep impressions under the eyes and highly developed ear lobes tell of an abnormal love for food, says Carey. Slick financiers and "get-rich-quick" artists can be picked out, he said, by the big width of the sidehead from the eyeline upwards.

A practical demonstration was given by Carey to the police on a prisoner and his measurements explained afterwards to the assembled officers. His subject he characterized as a "hopeless case" because of the lack of symmetry in his head.

At Scotland Yard

Carey says he has examined inmates not only of Australian prisons but has worked at Scotland Yard and other places in demonstrating his cranic-metric method of analyzing character.

Carey declared that in making good citizens not so much stress should be placed on the moral and religious development of a child as the necessity of instilling in him the importance of self-government.

"Thousands of criminals know the difference between right and wrong, but their governing power to direct themselves in the proper channels was weak," he said. "The child must be impressed with the fact that he must not only know the things he shouldn't do but that he must not do them."

Stewart Edward White Story Told On Screen

No one can see "The Killer," the Benjamin B. Hampton-Pathe feature at the Glendale Theatre Friday and Saturday and remain a mere spectator. It makes the spirit of you leave your seat and participate in the love and danger, the tears and joy, the fun and thrilling adventure of the story.

The story — Stewart Edward White's most recent novel—is built about the most fascinating and sinister character that ever figured in fiction. Henry Hooper was a killer by nature. To him, destroying life was as permissable an act as playing the piano, or reading his favorite books. In a little book he listed the people he had marked for destruction, then crossed them off, one by one, when his wicked plans had been consummated.

Because Ruth Emory and her little brother were part owners of his ranch they were trapped in his net. They were prisoners in his beautiful home and watched and spied upon every moment by the Killer or his servants. He allowed no living thing on his ranch that wasn't his, body and soul, and there was no one the distraught girl could turn to for help. Her position was utterly hopeless until an adventure-seeking young man, disbelieving the tales he had heard about the neighboring rancher, blundered into the situation and found all the adventure and romance anyone could wish for.

"The Killer" was directed by Howard Hickman and interpreted by a cast headed by Frank Campeau in the title role. Claire Adams and Jack Conway in the romantic leads, little Frankie Lee, Tod Sloan, Edward Peil, Milton Ross, Frank Hayes, and others.

Other superb attractions round out the program and at tonight's first show, five acts of amateur vaudeville are added to the bill.

Mrs. Lula Gregory, who has been the principal of the Seventh-day Adventist church school at Pomona the past year, will arrive in Glendale this week-end for a ten-day visit with her parents, Elder and Mrs. J. O. Corless of 235 North Verdugo Road. Mrs. Gregory will leave the middle of the month for Honduras, Central America, where she will join her husband, who is a medical missionary.

Dr. W. B. Corless and family of Visalia were guests at the home of his parents here recently. He is one of San Joaquin valley's most widely known dental surgeons.

REAL ELOQUENCE

"You don't display your old-time eloquence in public?"

"Not in public," admitted Senator Sorghum, "but you ought to hear me in my office when I'm explaining to a group of influential constituents why I haven't been able to carry out some of their ideas."

IRELAND NEEDS AID FOR PROGRAM FOR RECONSTRUCTION

WHITE CROSS TAKES HAND IN ARGUMENT WHETHER PEOPLE NOW FACE STARVATION

By CHARLES M'CANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON—American reports of "starving" Ireland have started an argument which has left everyone here and nearly everyone in Ireland in some doubt as to the real "low-down" on the situation.

Britons are agreed Ireland is not starving, Americans of the various "investigation" committees agree it is.

In Dublin several months ago a Sinn Fein leader declared to the United Press that Ireland was never more prosperous, and gave Sinn Fein's help for the peopls as the reason—along with the war, which hit Ireland lightly.

An American committee recently reported terrible destitution.

The British government countered with a detailed statement showing unemployment to be less than in England, showing the birth rate to be higher and the death rate to be lower than ever in Ireland's history, and pointed that elaborate relief systems throughout Ireland, automatically operative in times of distress, were not being used.

Various Charges Made

Sinn Fein answered this with a statement that Ireland was in terrible straits.

An American committee devised a scheme of setting up clothing departments, baby canteens, free kitchens and meal tickets for destitute people, on the Belgian relief system.

Recently the government issued a statement showing how, despite Sinn Fein statements that Ireland is famine-stricken, Sinn Feiners in pursuit of the boycott of Ulster goods had destroyed quantities of food and foodstuffs. Nineteen recent raids were cited in which agricultural seeds, flour, bread, groceries, tobacco, machinery, bran, tea, sugar, becon, oats, jam, wine, meal, matches, soap and potatoes had been destroyed.

Today the Irish White Cross, closely identified with Sinn Fein and with the American investigating committees, issued a statement urging the American committee not to institute the baby canteens, kitchen and meal-ticket stations, "which are not needed," but to send money for reconstruction of Irish industries. There is urgent need for money to lend for reconstruction—the retarding of industries and business—ruined during the present trouble. This, it was stated would give employment to thousands of persons now idle.

Proposed Special Mission

The White Cross proposed a special mission to deal with all schemes of reconstruction for which money might be available. On the mission would be representatives of Dublin, Belfast, Cork, Limerick and other centers together with a representative of Irish labor.

Should money be raised for reconstruction, the White Cross hopes several Americans will accept membership on the mission. Although large sums have been subscribed for Irish relief, they have not been sufficient to warrant the adoption of reconstruction schemes, as, the White Cross points out, provision is being made for 9000 idle Belfast workers and their dependents, 13,000 persons whose homes have been destroyed, and 20,000 dependents of persons interned, imprisoned, wounded or killed.

Rolling Stones

By E. C. H.

A rolling stone will gather no moss,
At least that's what I've heard.
Therefore it's the stone that doesn't roll,
Of which I will say a word.

I cannot see where the point comes in
When a person speaks like that.
I can prove to you, it is all wrong,
Or buy you a brand new hat.

If the stone that rolls gathers no moss,
Then it must be the cleanest stone.
The stone that lies upon the shore
Must resemble the decaying bone.

Instead of stones, let's take the salesman
That rolls around the earth.
Does he ever worry about a meal,
Or where he'll find a berth?

The man that's lazy and lays around,
And never rolls at all,
Does he roll around and earn his bread,
Or does he loaf along and fall?

If travel is the true source of knowledge,
Can we get it unless we roll?
If we're like stones, down deep in sand,
Would we reach the desired goal?

If the rolling stone is the worst of the lot
That's the point that I fail to see.
Does the drone in the hive get the honey,
Or is it the busy, rolling bee?

So rolling stones may gather no moss,
But what does that imply?
For stones and men are two different things,
It doesn't refer to you—and I.

Shipping Board Facing Complete Investigation

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 3.—The shipping board is due for a fore and aft raking in the senate this week during discussion of the $154,000,000 deficiency bill now under consideration.

President Harding, too, may be subjected to criticism. At least he will be urged by senators, in the debate, to end quickly the delay in appointing the shipping board.

Senator Kenyon, Iowa, republican, and Senator King, Utah, democrat, are prepared to take the lead in assailing the shipping board. They will fight the appropriation of more than $100,000,000 which the bill carries for the board.

This huge appropriation, together with the way the board's affairs are conducted, the salaries paid some of its employees, the character of some of these employees, and the manner in which they got their appointments will come under fire.

Paramount Comedy For Palace Grand Picture

Comedies possessing genuine elements of gripping tingling drama and of delicate sentiment without sacrificing laugh-power are infrequent enough to cause Douglas MacLean's latest Paramount picture, "The Home Stretch," which comes to the Palace Grand theatre Saturday to stand forth as one of the most original and entertaining offerings of the year.

The story concerns a jockey, a trainer, a racetrack follower, who at the time the picture opens, has risen to the ranks of racehorse owners, and of the difficulties he encounters when he attempts to abandon his gambling habits. Not only is Mr. MacLean afforded ample opportunity to "get over" sparkling comedy situations, but to display his dramatic ability and his skill with "thrillers" as well.

The opening scenes of the story, laid on a famous California race track, are notable for tensely dramatic situations, and a thrilling accident, in which Mr. MacLean plays a prominent part. Throughout the remainder of the picture, clever comedy and dramatic suspense are delightfully blended and carried through to an unusual ending.

"The Sneakers," a two-part Christie comedy, and the Paramount magazine complete the bill. "The Witching Hour" is the feature for Sunday and Monday.

This year the National University in Peking, China, received women students for the first time.

Alleged Slayer Of Five Goes Without Husband

HONOLULU, T. H., June 3.—Paul Vincent Southard, husband of Mrs. Lydia Southard, alleged feminine "Bluebeard," remained in Honolulu today despite his expressed desire to accompany his wife to the mainland.

Mrs. Southard, in charge of Deputy Sheriff V. H. Ormsby of Twin Falls, Ido., and Mrs. Ormsby, left Wednesday on the liner Matsonia, for San Francisco, en route to Twin Falls, to face trial. She is charged with poisoning four husbands and her brother-in-law.

Southard accompanied his wife aboard the steamer and bade her an unemotional farewell. After the vessel left Southard could not be found and a police search was started for him. Fearing he had stowed away, radio requests were sent, that the Matsonia be searched. Late in the evening, however, Southard was found in Honolulu.

Mrs. Southard will reach San Francisco June 6 and will be taken immediately to Twin Falls.

Failure of necessary papers to arrive from the navy department, prevented Southard accompanying his wife. He is a chief petty officer aboard the U. S. S. Monterey.

SENATORIAL ORDERS CAUSE PROTESTS FROM SCRIBES

MARBLE HALLS FOR SENATORS AND COLD SHOULDERS GIVEN NEWSPAPER REPORTERS

By L. C. MARTIN
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The rights, privileges and freedom of the press in the senate wing of the capitol seem likely to become the subjects of a vivacious discussion in the open senate ere long.

The news gatherers who keep the American public informed of the doings in the upper house of congress are hoping to bring about this open discussion of their case. Understanding as they do the power of publicity, they hope by getting their grievances aired to win public support.

When the Harding administration came into power, the first executive order opened the White House gates, closed for years. From then on, the executive departments extended a broader freedom to the public and the public representatives, the newspapermen. While this gratifying change was going on in uptown Washington, the process was reversed by the republican majority in the senate.

Public Is Kept Out

An order was issued by the rules committee barring newspaper men and the public from the corridor opening off the senate chamber to the west. This, it was explained, was to insure senators privacy in the use of the Marble room, a spacious apartment paralleling the corridor, and opening to a balcony or portico overlooking the grounds of the capitol. The corridor at once became part of the senate "floor" but even more sacrosanct than the floor itself, for those correspondents who have floor privileges were not permitted to enter the senate chamber via the corridor.

Couches were installed in the Marble room and the corridor. Tables were set upon the portico, where senators might like to lunch. Screens at both ends of the corridor kept the public gaze from intruding.

The correspondents used that corridor to meet senators. More news was gathered there every day than any other place in the senate wing or in the senate office building. It was a convenient place to catch senators who would otherwise have to be pursued all over the capitol and office building.

Work Made More Difficult

Now, claim the reporters, their work has been rendered doubly difficult, and has been slowed up greatly. They must send in cards from the end of the corridor and any senator who wishes, may "dodge" an interviewer very easily.

After a mass meeting of protest, the correspondents put the matter up to the rules committee, stressing the point that they had done nothing to warrant curtailment of their long standing rights and privileges, and hinting that senators would harm themselves more in the end than they would harm the newspapers. The matter is still in abeyance before the committee, with a strong prospect that several compromises will be suggested to the correspondents. These are likely to be rejected, as the reporters feel they should not, as a matter of principle, yield anything they once had in the way of privileges. Then the matter may come up on the floor, and be threshed out there.

Serves Jail Sentence Upon Installment Plan

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., June June 3.—Harry Polant, musician, is serving his jail sentence on the installment plan. Polant, who plays at a theatre here in the afternoon and at night, was found guilty of speeding. The judge permitted him to "do" his ten days in installments so he wouldn't lose his job at the theatre.

Each morning Polant comes to the jail, eats breakfast and stays for lunch. He is released then until the next morning.

Harding Makes Address To Naval Graduates

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 3.—"I hope you will never be called on to draw a sword or fire a gun," President Harding told the graduating class at the naval academy yesterday.

"I promise you that while I am president you'll never be called on to fire a gun except when you can do it with that American conscience of which you can answer to God and our fellow men," Harding said.

The president spoke extemporaneously after he had presented diplomas to the 260 graduate midshipmen.

Most revolutions these days seem too tired to turn.

In looking for happiness, a man's eyes should be in his heart.

Knowledge is a strange mirror, before which the great man sees himself small, and the small man sees himself big.

Polish Army, Starving, Attacks French Forces

OPPELN, Upper Silesia, June 3.—Starving Polish insurgents have turned on friendly French soldiers and many lives have been lost in brief skirmishes, according to reports here today.

The most serious break occurred at Kattowitz where a French supply train was rushed by a mob of hungry Poles. Drivers of the lorries were brushed from their seats while the attackers looted the supplies.

French guards opened fire. The raiders replied instantly. Only after several lives had been lost did the looters withdraw.

Other encounters were reported here indicating the plight of the insurgents and their growing impatience with the French.

Meanwhile the Germans have continued to harass the French. From the first they have charged the French were trying to help Poland obtain the major portion of Silesia. At Beuthen this ill feeling flared into active fighting.

More than a thousand Germans there, angered at the supposed favoritism for the Poles, made a rush at the French garrison. Within a few moments they had surrounded the headquarters and opened a brisk revolver fire which broke windows, but did little other damage.

A number of French tanks were stationed in the barracks yard and the Germans, having captured the sentries, attempted to seize the tanks.

The tank crews, however, repelled the attacks with the revolvers and with a threat to use their machine guns.

The Germans retreated to adjacent houses whence they continued to direct a revolver fire on the garrison. The tanks broke up the attack with machine guns. The Germans left a number of dead.

Livestock Killed By Tornado In Colorado

AKRON, Colo., June 3—Hundreds of volunteers today were assisting farmers of northern Washington county in clearing up the debris caused by a tornado, the first in the country's history, which struck near here. Considerable livestock was killed and many farm buildings demolished. Farmers and their families escaped injury by seeking refuge in storm cellars.

UNIQUE REPORT AT ANNUAL LUNCHEON HELD BY D. A. R.

MISS IDA D. MYERS, CHAIRMAN AMERICANIZATION WORK, HAS UNUSUAL STATEMENT

One of the very interesting and clever reports given at the annual luncheon of General Richard Gridley chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, which was held yesterday at La Ramada, an account of which was given in yesterday's Glendale Evening News, was that of Miss Ida D. Myers, chairman of the Americanization committee. Following is her report:

"Now this is according as it is written in the book of D. A. R. Chronicles for the year 1920-1921, and contains the names and number of offerings brought for patriotic education by the Gen. Richard Gridley chapter, D. A. R.

"And it came to pass when the daughters were assembled in the month of June, 1920, to consult together, that the beloved regent, Mrs. J. H. Braly, a woman of wisdom and famed throughout the land for hospitality and mighty deeds of goodness, appointed captains to command various forces of her powerful band, and the women all were of one heart to serve their regent and daughters with strength and gladness.

"The captain chosen to be over Patriotic Education was Miss Ida D. Myers, who was counseled to be ever-mindful of strangers who have come from other lands to dwell within our gates, and continually with outstretched hand do good to people of all nations.

"So this captain went forth to seek where need was great, and the Albion street school in the neighboring city of Los Angeles entreated for help, and these people put their trust in this mighty band of devoted daughters of Glendale.

Bring Their Possessions

"So when the band was again assembled, this same captain spoke: 'If it seem good unto you, O regent and daughters, let us bring continually a portion from our store houses to my dwelling place and let us minister unto these, our brethren, whose need is so great.' And the hearts of the daughters were stirred and they said they would quickly so do, for the work was right in the eyes of all this loyal band. Then the regent and daughters rejoiced in the good work and brought willingly and gladly much of their possessions.

"Now these mentioned were some of the things given: Several pieces of silver; wearing apparel in great abundance for men, women and children; shoes to the number of 48 pair; stockings to the number of 100 pair; a goodly number of hats, bags, hair-ribbons, neckties and collars; handkerchiefs; many pieces of cloth; pictures large and small; rugs; balls and paper dolls, and stuffed animals for the litle ones. Moreover, there was much sheet music and magazines and books in great numbers; and these mentioned by name were not all. Then the captain took counsel with Mrs. J. A. Crawford, a woman endued with prudence and understanding, and skillful to drive a chariot, and together with gladness they bore the many offerings at divers times to the Albion street school, where they were greeted with shouts of joy. Moreover, Miss Graff, the leader there, a woman full of good deeds, wisely dispersed to her people, both men, women and children, a coat, a garment, a pair of shoes, a book, a ball, as the need, and the people rejoiced greatly and gave thanks, and help and comfort beyond expression in words was given those who dwell in the shadow of that school.

"And the heart of the captain was glad for such a multitude of offerings, and these are the things that were numbered: In silver $10; 500 articles of wearing apparel and household goods; 153 pieces of sheet music; 210 pictures, large and small; 1188 magazines and books.

Thanks Are Expressed

"O regent and daughters, for thy brethren's sake and according to the kindness of thy hearts, have thou done all this greatness in giving such abundance.

"O regent and daughters, there are none like thee; goodness and kindness come from thee and in thy hands are power and might to give strength and help unto all in need.

"Now, therefore, O regent and daughters, thanks for all these things; of thine own generously has been given; yea, good has been done that remaineth long in the hearts of these, thy brethren. So again thanks, and with joy and gladness your captain makes known your loving kindness and wondrous works."

Yesterday's hero—Ty Cobb. The "peach" rode one for four bases in the tenth and the Tigers beat the Athletics 5 to 4.

Pat Duncan knocked the longest hit ever made in the Cincinnati park—over the left field wall. The Reds beat the Cards 8 to 5.

Uhle and Gardner led the attack on three Red Sox pitchers that gave the Indians an 8 to 4 win.

Washington pounded Dick Kerr hard and the White Sox lost, 7 to 2.

Art Nehf shut out the Pirates 7 to 0 and the Giants closed up to within a half game of the league leading Pirates.

Three home runs and a multitude of two and three baggers marked a wild game at Salt Lake yesterday. The Seals won 17 to 10, evening up the series.

Oakland took a double header from Portland, 9 to 1 and 6 to 5.

Seattle beat Sacramento 7 to 4.

Vernon shut out the Angels, 4 to 0.

MODEL ROOMS GAIN GREAT PRAISE AT SCHOOL EXHIBIT

MINIATURE FURNITURE, REAL DRAPERIES AND PLEASING STYLES COMPLIMENTED

Perhaps the outstanding feature of the exhibition of work of the art classes at Glendale Union high school which was described in yesterday's Glendale Evening News, were the model rooms showing in miniature how period styles may be adapted to modern homes. All of the small pieces of furniture, draperies, etc., were made by the members of these classes in interior decoration under the direction of Miss Muller. This exhibiton includes the following model rooms:

Interior decoration, period styles in modern homes—In the Chinese taste. Helen Engle. (Walls in Tiffany finish of green and gold; real miniature Chinese paintings on rice paper afford motif for entire room.)

Spanish Moorish Renaissance—William Justema. Details perfect even to fountain seen in courtyard from arched windows).

Louis XVI. reception room—Alberta Bertrand.

Italian Renaissance living room—Ralph Van Hoorebeke. (Carved furniture, pictures, lamp standard, all made by hand and typifying furnishings of this period).

A modern California bungalow bedroom—Gertrude DuBois.

Colonial dining room—Mildred Meeker. (Perfect in detail even to miniature ancestral picture over the fireplace).

A modern Black and White—Inez Harrison. (Interior decorations and furniture carried out entirely in these two colors).

A. J. Van Wie States His Qualifications

In announcing his candidacy for the office of city clerk, A. J. Van Wie presents to the voters, as qualifications fitting him for the position, three and one-half years in continued connection in the city hall, and for eight years a resident of old Tropico and Glendale, during which time he had been connected in a capacity requiring the meeting of the public.

Mr. Van Wie states that he fully realizes the importance of the post, the value of the systematic keeping of records so valuable to the welfare of our fast growing city, the necessity of a minute clerk who is capable of correctly receiving the transactions of the board in the council chamber and the demands of the public to be met and informed of their rights, according to city ordinances.

He further states that he is a firm adherent to the enforcement of all city ordinances in force, and believes in the adoption of laws that protect the public but do not deprive them of any right or rights as an American citizen.

Mr. Van Wie's friends firmly believe that he is the man for the place and will go to the polls confident of his election to this important post in the city government under the new municipal charter.

Time To Be Taken To Decide Trees To Plant

At the suggestion of T. W. Watson, city manager, the Board of City Trustees last night postponed until next August the matter of deciding what variety of trees to plant on Gardena avenue. The city manager's letter:

"In regard to petition attached hereto signed by R. C. Spilsbury of 1765 Gardena avenue and other residents and property holders on that street requesting your board to take the necessary action in accordance with Section 5 of Ordinance 390 to provide for a hearing in regard to selecting varieties of trees to be planted on Gardena avenue between Brand boulevard and Eulalia street:

"I would respectfully recommend that this petition be placed on file and petitioners notified that the matter will be taken up at the first meeting of your board in August next and a time for hearing as requested fixed at that time. This will give ample time for deciding on the variety of trees to be planted before the tree planting season."

Street Naming Hearing Continued To August

Street naming in the Grand View district will not be officially considered until next August. This action was taken at the meeting of the Board of City Trustees last night on the following suggestion from T. W. Watson, city manager:

"I would respectfully recommend that this hearing be continued until the first meeting of your board in August as there are a number of new streets being dedicated in that section that will require naming in addition to several changes in street naming that are advisable. This will give the people of that section time to decide these matters and present to your board recommendations in regard thereto."

Seniors Only Invited To Dance By Alumni

In the announcement in Thursday's News concerning the high school alumni day exercises to be held today it was stated that the dance, which will take place in the school gymnasium, would be in honor of all high school students. This statement was erroneous, as the members of the Senior class are the only ones invited by the alumni. This action was necessary because of the fact that there will not be sufficient room to entertain more than one class.

ANNUAL PICNIC FOR CIRCLE WILL BE GIVEN JUNE 15

MUTUAL BENEFIT MEMBERS TO HAVE OUTING; PATRIOTISM WILL BE FEATURED

At the regular meeting of the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle, which was held at the library Wednesday, Mrs. A. A. Barton presiding, plans for the annual picnic to be held June 15 were completed.

As some of the members had raised some objection to the idea of having each one wear a costume depicting some patriotic character it was decided that instead the idea of patriotism would be carried out in the emblems given the members.

Instead of the regular review, Mrs. C. W. Crawford read from the book "Growing Up" (Vorse), so as to enable the volume to be finished before the close of the year. Mrs. H. V. Henry also read from the book "When Children Err."

Special guests for the day included: Mrs. A. D. Anderson, recording secretary of the first district, who was accompanied by Mrs. J. I. Dalton, Mrs. M. Shuts, Mrs. Linn and Mrs. J. M. Bartlett, all of Pasadena.
